Ready to Vote Three Billion Dollars in Aid

Washington, May 16—(AP)—A $3,121,450,000 program of American economic aid to Europe and other non-Communist areas is ready for final vote in both chambers of congress.

Chairman Kee (D-WVa) of the house foreign affairs committee predicted house passage without difficulty. He said he would bring the measure up for a vote Wednesday.

Sprung From Deadlock
The big global aid program was sprung from a week-long deadlock yesterday by agreement between senate and house conferees. It was a partial victory both for the administration and for an economy bloc which had fought to trim it.

As finally agreed on by the conferees—named by the two chambers to iron out differences between the senate and the house versions—the bill provides up to $2,850,000,000 for the third year of the four-year Marshall plan for Europe's economic recovery.

It also calls for: $100,000,000 for Korea; $94,000,000 for non-Communist forces in the China area; $27,450,000 for Palestine refugees; $15,000,000 for the International Children's Emergency fund, and $35,000,000 for President Truman's Point Four program.

Point Four Issue
The Point Four plan for extending economic aid to underdeveloped areas of the world was one of the hottest issues of debate within the conference. The house had voted $25,000,000; the senate $45,000,000, the amount asked by the president. Conferees split the difference.

The Marshall plan figure the conferees approved was a quarter of a billion less than the administration had requested and almost a billion below the $3,778,000,000 voted for this program last year.

Both houses must approve the conference committee's decisions before the bill goes to the White House for President Truman's signature.

Senate Probers Ask Crime Files

Washington, May 16—(AP)—The senate committee investigating gambling and crime asked Virgil Petersen, Chicago crime commission director, for a look at information his group has rounded up.

The request was made by the committee's newly-appointed chief counsel, Rudolph Halley. Halley said today he hopes to have the nucleus of a staff at work by the end of the week gathering information for a $150,000 nationwide crime probe.

The crime commission's recent report, which alleged vice and lawlessness flourish in Chicago's near North Side honky tonk district, touched off a Cook county grand jury investigation which now is hearing police witnesses.

Capt. Thomas Harris is in command of the East Chicago avenue police district, in control of the area, was before the Chicago grand jury yesterday.

Outside the jury room, he denied to newsmen that any honky tonk owner in the district has been able to remain open after hours by paying money to police.

Retires to Farm After Gambling Raid by Troopers

Edwardsville, Ill., May 16—(AP)—John P. Connor, a partner in the Venice, Ill., Hyde Park club raided by state police Friday, says he is going to retire to his farm near Festus, Mo.

He said the club would be boarded up and "closed indefinitely."

"I've been wanting to quit and live on my farm for a long time," Connor said. "I guess I waited a couple of weeks too long."

Connor made the statement as he and Louis Calcaterra, another Hyde Park partner, and Robert Leu, part owner of the 200 club in Madison, surrendered on gambling warrants yesterday and made bond of $1,500 each.

The raids Friday on the Hyde Park and 200 clubs were ordered by Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Beier's Down; Bakers' Strike Hits 57 Cities

The ovens at the Beier wholesale bakery today were at a low temperature and the offices were closed.

There was no indication when operations would be resumed, but bread was available at two local retail bakeries and at the chain stores.

57 Cities Hit!

Chicago, May 16—(AP)—Bread supplies dwindled in 57 downstate cities today as a strike of 1,100 AFL bakers entered the third day.

Federal conciliators met with both sides yesterday, but declined comment on the progress of the talks. It was not known whether the talks would continue today.

The walkout was called Saturday midnight by AFL Bakery and Confectionary workers in support of demands for a wage increase and a welfare plan.

Although many communities were without bread, supplies were available in larger towns where chain stores are situated.

U. S. Conciliators Jesse E. Jacobson and Glenn C. Fleschman sat throughout the day with representatives of the union and company officials.

George Zellman of Decatur, secretary of the union's state council, said wages prior to the strike ranged from 82 cents to $1.42 an hour. He did not say how much an increase the union is seeking.

The bakers' contract expired May 1.

Among the communities affected are Springfield, Decatur, Galesburg, Champaign, Urbana, Quincy, La Salle, Ottawa, Peru, Streator, Danville, Bloomington, Centralia and West Frankfort.

Iowa Throws The Book at Topsy Driver

The Newton (Iowa) Daily News carries a story that would indicate Iowa means business when it starts to curb drunken driving.

The story, taken from yesterday's Newton News, read:

Alonzo F. Husted, 52, Leon, Ia., auctioneer, this morning was sentenced to serve three years in the state penitentiary at Fort Madison on a charge of driving while intoxicated, third offense.

Husted changed his plea from not guilty to guilty and was sentenced by District Judge Frank Bechly. Judge Bechly granted Husted two weeks in which to settle his business affairs before reporting to prison.

Husted was arrested Jan. 14 following an accident near Colfax. He has been at liberty on bail since his arrest.

The three year prison term is mandatory under state law for third offenders on drunken driving charges upon conviction.

Rock Falls Pastor Arrested; Charge Drunken Driving

Dr. Fred E. Frankson, 212 Fourth avenue, Rock Falls, pastor of the Rock Falls Methodist church, was bound over to the June term of the Carroll county grand jury Monday on a charge of driving while intoxicated by Justice of the Peace Frank Schoepel in Mt. Carroll.

Dr. Frankson was released under $500 bond. He was arrested near Lanark Saturday.

Siege Follows Theft of Costa Rica's Million Dollar Statue

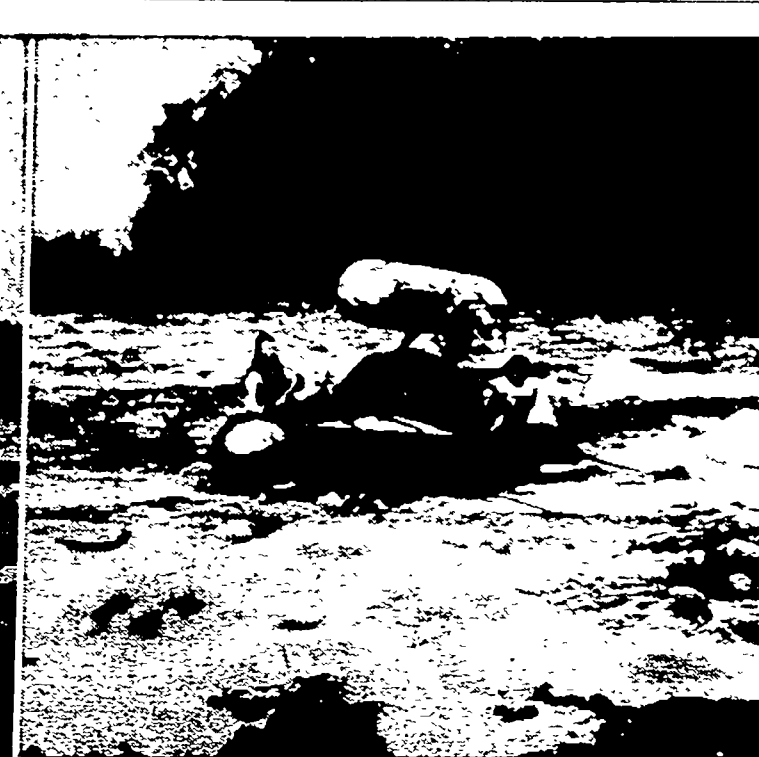

Panama, Panama, May 16—(AP)—The daring theft of the million-dollar statue of Costa Rica's patron virgin has brought the little Central American country to a virtual state of siege, travelers arriving here from San Jose reported.

They said the jewel-encrusted gold image of Our Lady of Los Angeles was stolen Friday night from the Basilica at Cartago, 20 miles southeast of San Jose. The thieves murdered the church watchman and escaped with the two-foot tall statue, as well as with money and jewels from the church alms box.

Amid a country-wide wave of indignation, rewards totaling 4,000,000 colones (more than $600,000) have been offered by individuals and business houses for information leading to the re-

Cannon hovers over Mrs. Bugay. Then in the picture at right, the helicopter, thrown off balance by the weight of Mrs. Bugay, dipped into the water and exploded. A second helicopter arrived and dropped a rope linking the three victims to the shore. All three were saved, but are suffering from exposure and burns.

Takes Second Place In Safety Contest

Carol Sue Schreiner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner, 521 E. Fellows street, Dixon, sixth grade student at North Central school, won second prize in a Safety Legion contest recently held here. "The Child Guards His Health" won in a contest sponsored by a magazine put out for the safety of boys and girls.

CAR CRASH

Mrs. Mary Phelps, 40, of 908 Dement avenue, and employed at the Dixon state hospital, was involved in an automobile crash on N. Galena avenue Monday evening.

Dave Blackburn, 21, of route 2, Dixon, had slowed to make a left hand turn and Mrs. Phelps was unable to stop her car, hitting the rear of the Blackburn machine. The front end of the Phelps car was badly damaged.

Lewis Won't Testify; Denies Secret Coal Strike Signal

Washington, May 16—(AP)—John L. Lewis today declined to testify voluntarily to a house labor subcommittee, but denied he sent secret signals to miners during last winter's coal strike.

Chairman Jacobs (D-Ind) had asked Lewis to appear before the subcommittee tonight.

He made public a letter from Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, turning down his invitation.

Jacobs called the hearings to investigate charges by Lloyd Siderer, a resident of a United Mine Workers union local at Canton, Ill., that Lewis sent secret orders to the miners to continue their strike although publicly calling on them to go back to work in compliance with a federal court's "stop strike" order.

"Mr. Siderer," Lewis wrote Jacobs, "is in error in his press quoted assertions that he received directly or indirectly any 'whistle stop' instruction, a 'secret signal' to stop work."

"No such instructions were uttered or authorized at any time by this office to Mr. Siderer or any other of the hundreds of thousands of officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America."

"The term 'whistle stop' has no (Continued on Page 8)

'Chamber' Board Hears Reports

A meeting of the board of directors of the Dixon Chamber of Commerce was held Monday evening at the Nachusa hotel.

A report on Clean-up week was given and 75 calls received at the Chamber offices were answered by the city street department.

A similar list is being prepared and turned over to Superintendent Clarence Vaile today. Several applications were received asking for the services of a professional sprayer who will spray lawns and shrubbery to eliminate mosquitoes and flies.

President Evar Swanson reported on the recent meeting held at DeKalb to bring pressure to bear on the state highway department to modernize the route of the Lincoln Highway across Northern Illinois.

Lagouri Welch reported that he signed the contract for the July Fourth fireworks display. Both Welch and President Swanson later met with officials of the Pratt Engineering Co., relative to the housing problem in Dixon and the necessity of obtaining living quarters for employees who will come to Dixon.

Executive Chairman Lyle Melvin has called a meeting of the executive committee for the Ronald Reagan Injun Summer homecoming to be held in Dixon for Thursday morning at 9:30 at the Dixon Chamber of Commerce offices.

Reports Furniture Taken Across River

Jack Krise, 84 Monroe avenue, reported to police Monday evening that several articles of lawn furniture were stolen from his yard and taken across the river in a boat.

Patrolman McCoy investigated and found the furniture on the north bank along Page Drive and the boat. He was unable to establish the identity of the owner.

RESCUE DOGS

Chester Strangeland and Gale Keyser of the Dixon fire department rescued two dogs from a drain tile at Eighth street and Jackson avenue Monday evening at 6 o'clock.

Neighbors phoned the fire station and reported the dogs had become lodged in the tile.

Polo to Vote Again on Fast Time Change

Polo—(Special)—Residents of this city will know definitely whether they are going to have daylight or standard time—but not until next week! A vote has been set for May 23 when the issue will be decided.

Most Illinois cities went daylight time in April. Polo decided to remain on central standard time. A special election was held Friday after considerable discussion.

The vote was 479 to 359 to accept daylight saving time. At the same time farmers in the Polo area submitted a petition of 465 names to the city council requesting that standard time be retained.

Then the city council explained that Friday's election was in no way binding upon the administration, but was to be considered only as advisory action.

The city council chambers were jammed again Monday when the issue was up for hearing, and a compromise has now been reached.

A new election has been (Continued on Page 8)

Recover $250 in Loot from Young Franklin Couple

Loot valued at about $250 has been recovered from Pvt. Brayton Thompson and his bride of 60 days, Mrs. Joan Thompson, Franklin Grove, by Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Redebaugh and Assistant Police Chief Frank Tyne.

It has been identified as property taken from five places in Franklin Grove. The couple was arraigned before Justice Sterling Schrock yesterday afternoon and bound over to the grand jury under bonds of $4,000 each.

Thompson is AWOL from the air corps, where he held a rating of private first class. He is a former resident of Washington, Ind. The couple was arrested at the Dixon bus terminal Saturday evening and taken to the Lee county jail for questioning.

Here, both admitted the break-ins of the Kelley dry goods store, Trottnow's grocery, Ives drug store, the Variety store and the high school office. Both are in county jail.

Thompson was reported to have been absent without leave four weeks when he came to Franklin Grove to join his wife. He is 17 years old and his wife is 19.

Boys Shoot Pigeons, Fined $10 and Costs

George R. Brunett, 16, of 420 Barker avenue, and James R. Couley, route 1, armed with 22 caliber rifles, fired at pigeons roosting under the Galena avenue bridge.

Deputy Conservation Inspector John Hinkle saw the act but Police Chief Harry Fischer filed complaints before Police Magistrate Albert Kennedy.

Patrolmen Sanford and Olson arrested the youthful offenders Sunday afternoon and fines of $10 were assessed Monday.

22,000 Hear Truman Praise Senator Lucas

Chicago, May 16—(AP)—Four-hundred-thousand persons lined Chicago streets Monday night to see President Truman parade to the Stadium.

And 22,000 were in the Stadium to hear his speech and watch the Jefferson Jubilee pageant.

Governor Adlai Stevenson, Vice President Barkley and Bill Boyle, the party's national chairman, were in the spotlight with the President.

Truman went out of his way in his speech to throw in a good word for Senator Scott Lucas, Democratic majority leader, and to call for defeat of Republican Everett M. Dirksen.

Dirksen and Lucas will oppose each other in November to see who'll represent Illinois in the U. S. Senate.

Truman said Lucas was entitled to the nation's gratitude for his senate service. Then the President added, off the cuff:

"And he's entitled to be returned to the senate by the great state of Illinois."

In effect Truman lumped Dirksen with "obstructionists" he wants defeated in the fall.

Earlier in the day, Lucas and Dirksen ran into each other in the Stevens hotel.

"Hi, Ev. How's your family?" Lucas asked.

"Hi, Scott. Fine. How's your's?" Dirksen replied.

"Fine. Guess you must be kind (Continued on Page 8)

Myers Charges McCarthy Only 'Politicking'

Washington, May 16—(AP)—Senator McCarthy's demand that Secretary of State Acheson be fired drew a counter blast today from Senator Myers of Pennsylvania who said McCarthy is just talking politics.

Myers, the assistant Democratic leader of the senate, denounced McCarthy's demand as a "deliberate and malicious attempt to undermine" America's leadership in foreign affairs.

He accused the Wisconsin Republican of being "more" interested in the next election "than in the future well being and peace of the world."

Senator Brewster (R-Me.), on the other hand, gave support to McCarthy's criticism of Acheson.

"For the good of the country," Brewster said in an interview, "it ought to be possible to secure men (as secretary of state) who would command more general confidence and do the job that is required in this very critical time."

Brewster, chairman of the Re-

Sees Rock River Inside and Out

Thomas Brevitt, 218 East Boyd street, viewed the beauties of Rock river both from the north bank of the stream and from the bed as well last evening about 7 o'clock.

He was riding his motorcycle along the north bank very close to the edge when suddenly the bank gave way and the motorcycle and a rider disappeared below the water.

Brevitt was able to scramble up the bank and later the motorcycle was hauled ashore. Brevitt was taken in custody, arraigned before Justice Sterling Schrock and fined $10 for reckless driving.

Skipper Lost at Sea in 1939 May Have Been U-Boat Captive

Daytona Beach, Fla., May 16—(AP)—The parents of a shrimp boat skipper who was believed lost in a storm 11 years ago hoped today that a penny postcard might lead to his return.

The card was received by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hardee yesterday. It had been mailed from New Haven, Conn., and was signed by a "Capt. Udet, Commander U-32."

Shannon Hardee, who would be 37 years old now, and two companions were believed lost off Flagler beach in 1939. Their shrimp boat, "Melda," was washed ashore near Melbourne, a hole in the side, but the bodies were never recovered.

The post card said:

"This is to inform you Shannon is alive and will return. He was captured by the (submarine) U-32 off Florida coast. The crew and prisoners were interned at Murmansk and after the war sent to Siberia."

No trace of a Captain Udet could be found in New Haven, but Chief Postal Inspector Harry L. Getchell said he would investigate.

Carriers Plan To Resume All Runs Rapidly

Ends Most Serious Walkout in 5 Years

Chicago, May 16—(AP)—The nation's worst railroad strike in four years was settled today and striking firemen on five major rail systems were ordered back to their jobs immediately.

Struck carriers planned to resume normal service "as rapidly as possible." The break was announced shortly after 2 a. m.

Return to Work

The striking Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen recalled picket lines and ordered the strikers to return to work.

Here is the settlement in brief: The union—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen with 18,000 of its members directly involved.

The companies—the Pennsylvania railroad, the New York Central System, the Southern railway, the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railway, and the Union Pacific railroad. Only parts of each system were struck.

Settlement terms — The union said it had modified its demand for a second fireman on multiple unit diesel locomotives to this extent: It agreed to submit to arbitration its charge that the railroads violated existing agreements by using "sub-executives" instead of a second fireman for work in motor rooms of fast through passenger multiple unit diesels.

Said Demand Withdrawn

However, a management spokesman said the union withdrew its demand "for a second fireman on multiple-unit diesel-electric engines, and the railroads agreed for arbitration of the union's charges that certain practices in connection with the operation of these engines were in violation of existing contracts."

(Two presidential fact-finding boards have ruled against employment of a second fireman on multiple unit diesels, holding they are

Winnipeg Still Could Be Scene Of Catastrophe

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Red River's flood crest surged through the Greater Winnipeg area today and the flood control chief warned "a catastrophe could still happen."

The army had completed plans for a mass evacuation if torrential rains raise the river much higher than its 30.1 foot level, 12 feet above flood stage already. Some 80,000 persons had left the stricken city.

Six square miles of the prairie city of 350,000 are under water. Officials said the Red and its two tributaries would have to fall at least five feet before dikes in Greater Winnipeg could be called out of danger.

Not Marrying! Says Ava Gardner, Not Even Frank Sinatra

Tossa Del Mar, Spain, May 16—(AP)—Screen star Ava Gardner says she's not in love with anybody and not planning to marry anyone. Frank Sinatra included.

"My supposed romantic relations with Frank Sinatra are purely imaginary," said the twice-divorced Hollywood beauty who for the past month has been making a film here.

American columnists have frequently linked her name with that of the radio and screen singer. He arrived last Thursday to visit Ava at her villa here. Sinatra is separated from his wife.

Miss Gardner added that she also was not in love with her new leading man, Spanish bullfighter Mario Cabre, who said Sunday that he planned to marry Miss Gardner and was "really sad" over Sinatra's visit.

Set May 20 Deadline For Tax Schedules

Tax schedules in Dixon township must be returned to Assessor A. C. Handell by Saturday, May 20, the assessor told The Telegraph today.

Under state law, if the schedules are not returned by the specified date, a penalty equal to 50 per cent of the assessment may be imposed. Handell said schedules were left at every home in the township.

DIXON SOFTBALL OPENS TONIGHT at Reynolds Field. The Church league gets under way with two games. . . . Grace will play Christian and Baptist meets Bethel in loop contests. . . . The first game is scheduled to begin at 7:30 p. m. . . . A charge of 25 cents will be made to anyone over 15 years of age. . . . This will cover the expenses of the lights and the field costs it is hoped. . . . Four cents of that goes for tax, and 21 cents into the Park Board fund.

THE UNITED CIGAR STORE has taken over the sponsorship of Lakeshire-Marty's ballteam. . . . Bill Loftin is the new general manager. . . . In the schedule printed recently in The Telegraph, United Cigar will take the place of Lakeshire. . . . Team personnel remains the same.

LAKESHIRE WON THE City league in 1948. . . . The team has finished consistently high in that tough competition and United Cigar aims to keep them there. . . . The Lakeshire plant is closed, thus causing the change.

WE RECEIVED A NOTE FROM J. P. O'Rourke, Amboy Sportsman's club secretary, in this morning's mail. . . . O'Rourke tells us that James Gilton of Amboy caught a croppie tagged 2066, and the first one of the Derby fish to be landed. . . . The contest is sponsored by the Amboy Sportsman's club and the fish are all tagged. . . . A record is kept of the sponsor. . . . Guess who paid Jim the $5.00? George Carr made out a receipt for the tagged fish and Jim presented it to "Paddy" O'Rourke. . . . He was the sponsor of the fish, so he shelled out.

O'Rourke GOES ON to say that there are five Sportsman clubs in Lee County. . . . There are lots of fine members in these clubs and they are trying to promote better fishing and hunting. . . . The program is a sound one for not only do the Sportsman clubs aim at these ideals, they try to make better sports of men. . . . If you don't belong to one of these groups—Join one and be a good sportsman!

A LARGE NUMBER OF FISH have been turned loose and there are sponsors for them all. . . . If you decide to try your luck, "Don't forget your fishing license," says Paddy O'Rourke.

STERLING TOWNSHIP'S GOLDEN WARRIORS are here in Dixon this afternoon for a dual track meet with the Dixon thunders. The events will get under way about 4 p. m. and will continue for at least an hour and a half. . . . By FRIDAY

A large number of fellows are allowed out once a week for their bowling night, but we were surprised last night to see so many of them around when the bowling is over, and it turned out they were having their bowling banquet at the Elks. As we've no word yet as to what took place or the officers that were elected presume the girls have not adjourned their session yet, so the male half of the family must have got in without any rumpus. A half dozen keggers from Freeport invaded the Recreation last night to take a shot at that 1270 high in the ragtime doubles, but have no word on whether they bettered it or not. . . . Ed Worley wants to thank all the folks that helped him in any way in the tourney, especially George Horton and Harry Switzer, foul men, and official scorers Betty Brotherton, Marian Hoyle, Virginia Flower, Bess McConaughay, Larry Hoyle, Bud Dierdorff, Lyle Dierdorff, Bud Burke, Jack Burke, Charlie Burke, Bob Brotherton, Russ Hicks, John Russell, Kay Hobbs, Howard Han, Kevla Andreas, Clyde Andreas, Dave Kelly, Hank Channess and Charlie Lloyd, and we think the keggers will agree they all did a fine job. . . . And don't forget you prize winners may get your checks either tonight or tomorrow night at the Recreation. . . . Next week Ken will have his double page of champions in The Telegraph for the benefit of the boys and girls who were fortunate enough to end up in the top spots, and with the end of the ragtime doubles on May 28 and the Mixed league the same evening, the alleys will be ready to close for the season, and if you want to find a spot on a league team for next season it might be a good idea to turn in your name to the committee as close as there are always a few changes in team personnel, and the captains needing an extra bowler would have an opportunity of finding who is available. Although this is a bowling column we'll make a little note on baseball. Russ Shuck informs us that Borden's softball team, which it was feared would have to disband, is being taken over by Bill Loftin, who will sponsor it for his United Cigar store, which will give the team a chance for action this summer after all. It formerly played under the name Lakeshire-Marty.

Racing Speed Increases at Indianapolis

Indianapolis, May 16 (AP)—Race cars at the Indianapolis motor speedway have boosted their average about ten miles an hour in the last three years without any obvious changes in their specifications. Drivers have made a new "groove" on the bricks and asphalt in practice and qualification runs for the 500-mile Memorial Day race. They're leaving rubber tracks on the short north and south straightaways higher than ever before. . . . It seems to be a combination of heavy-footed young drivers and numerous minor improvements that has made 130 miles an hour commonplace on the two-and-one-half mile strip. Some of last year's rough spots have been smoothed with rock asphalt, too. . . . Wilbur Shaw, speedway president and three-time winner of the "500", credits better wheel suspension for some of the new speed. "Wheels are staying on the ground better and giving better traction," Shaw points out. "And the cars ride better. Of course, there's better metal for pistons and valves, improved valves and timing, and better ignition and spark plugs." High speeds this year have been made by standard rear-drive cars. Qualification records were held by front-drive Novis until Walt Faulkner of North Long Beach, Calif., moved the average up to 134.343 miles an hour last Saturday.

Washington Park To Open Racing Season Today
Chicago, May 16 (AP)—Chicago's major horse racing season opens today at Washington Park. For the third straight year, the Lincoln Fields meeting will be held at Washington. It runs for 29 days. Topping the stakes program is the $25,000 Peabody Memorial for 3-year-olds on Memorial Day. Other stakes, all worth $10,000, include the Joliet and Miss America for juniors, the Edward J. Fleming Memorial Handicap and the Lincoln Handicap. Today's feature is the $5,000 inaugural Handicap at one mile.

Boston's Drop Tops American League Hitters

Chicago, May 16 (AP)—The Boston Red Sox have taken over American league statistical honors with rookie Walter Drop leading in batting with .400 and seven other players in major roles. The Red Sox' DiMaggio heads the specialized department with the most runs scored, 26, and the most hits, 36. Boston's Al Zarilla and Vern Stephens, and Detroit's Dick Kuykoski share the two-bagger lead, each with eight. Bobby Doerr of Boston is tied with Henrich, Mares and Dillinger of Philadelphia in hitting triples. Each has four. Ted Williams of Boston is tops in home run production with nine and Stephens is ahead in runs-batted-in with 29. Dillinger shares base thefts with Herbie Adams of Chicago with three apiece. In the pitching bracket, Chuck Stobbs of Boston has a perfect 2-0 record and his veteran teammate, Mel Parnell, and Detroit's Art Houten have 4-1 marks. Bob Lemon of Cleveland heads the strikeout column with 28 whiffs.

Scharlau Moves Into Illinois PGA Golf Lead

Chicago, May 16 (AP)—Herman Scharlau of Bloomington topped the downstate entry in yesterday's 36 holes of the $5,000 Illinois PGA golf tourney at the St. Andrew Club. The final 18 of the 54-hole meet will be played today. Scharlau posted 76-71—147, five over par. George Smith, 53-year-old on-entis pro at Lake Forest, took the 36-hole lead with 67-73—140. He was followed by Jackson Bradley 71-70—141, Ky Laffoon, 72-70—142; Ray Hill, 71-73—144; and Johnny Revolta and Bob Stuppel, each with 72-73—145. All are from the Chicago area. Curly Williamson of Rockford was next to Scharlau among downstate entries with 73-75—148 while Gunnar Nelson of Rockford carded 75-74—149, Mike Sipula of Ottawa 74-76—150 and Charlie Grant of Decatur 79-75—154.

Unknown Golfer Upsets American In British Meet

Newcastle, Northern Ireland, May 16 (AP)—Elizabeth Price, an unknown Eurrey golfer, scored the first major upset of the British Women's golf championship today by eliminating Grace Leneyzy, former U. S. titleholder from Newington, Conn., 2 and 1, today in a fourth round match. Dot Kieley, of Los Angeles, the only other American left in the field, kept in the running with a 4 and 3 victory over Mrs. Mervyn Sutherland Pich of England.

State Trackmen Aim at Prep Records in Saturday's Meet

Champaign, Ill., May 16 (AP)—A half dozen records will be in jeopardy Saturday when the cream of the state's schoolboy cindermen competes in the 1950 Illinois high school track meet. Marks that might be tied or topped include those for the 100 and 220 yard dashes, the mile, shot put, discus throw and 880-yard relay.

These and other events will be run off at Memorial Stadium on the University of Illinois campus. Two entrants in the 100-yard dash have been clocked under :09.7, the state record, and a third has equalled that time.

Jim Caffey, junior-Negro speedster from LaGrange, turned in :09.5 last Friday in qualifying for the Riverside district finals, which he capped in :09.7. Jim Golliday of Wendell Phillips (Chicago) has done :09.6 and Bob Ullrich of Hinsdale just one tenth second slower.

Caffey poses the main threat in the 220. His 21.1 at Riverside was only one tenth off the pace established by Bobby Packard of Rockford in 1935 state competition. Redhead John Bauer, Benton's giant football and basketball star, looks like a heavy favorite in the shot and discus events. The 240-pound Benton athlete chucked the shot 58 feet 8 inches—3 feet, 8 inches better than the state record, in winning at the West Frankfort district.

Bauer's discus toss of 162 feet, 1/2 inch also surpassed any performance in the state meet's 52-year history. Doug Fuchs of Evanston, who has hurled the platter 161 feet, also will be trying to set a new standard.

Wheeler Aims at Mile
In the mile, Ted Wheeler of Evanston appears to stand a good chance of cracking the three year old mark of 4:23.1 set by Warren Druetzler of LaGrange. Without being pressed, Wheeler legged the distance in 4:27.0, or 13 seconds faster than his nearest competitor in the Evanston district over the weekend.

Steve Murphy of Calumet City, Don McLaughlin of Bloom and Bob Stuker of Oak Park are among other capable contenders. LaGrange will field the standard quartet in the 880-yard relay. The LaGrange lads won Riverside district honors in 1:30.0, a fraction slower than record time.

Parkinson Vaults
Jim Parkinson of Centralia will lead the assault on a seventh mark, 12 feet, 11 1/2 inches for the pole vault. Parkinson consistently clears that bar at better than 12 feet, 6 inches, and on one occasion came within two inches of record.

LaGrange, Evanston, Oak Park and Centralia generally are regarded as favorites for the team championship. Evanston bagged 68 1/2 points in annexing its district title, and Oak Park 67 to take first place at Riverside, where LaGrange was second with 48. Centralia beat out Collinsville at Granite City.

FIGHTS
HARTFORD Conn.—Nippy Pro 130 Hartford knocked out Art Liano 127 Puerto Rico (2).

BASEBALL
NEW YORK—The New York Yankees secured veteran Johnny Mize to their Kansas City farm club and sold out holder John Lindell to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Mendota Track Opens Big Car Racing Sunday

Mendota, Ill.—Big car races will be held at the Tri-County fairgrounds here, Sunday afternoon. The events will be run under the sanction of the Mississippi Valley Auto Racing association. Time trials are scheduled for 12:30 p. m., with the competitive events slated for 2 p. m. "Rocky" Williams, Peoria speedster, will begin the defense of his point title, won last year, at the Mendota track. Challenging Williams will be such speedway aces as Ralph La Guire, Rock Island; Clarence Allison, East Moline; Clair Peterson, Walnut; Bat Rossi, Oglesby; Jack Biddison, Peoria; Ken Kirby, Bushnell; Ray Sidwick, Galesburg; Harold Ketter, Quincy; Rudy Roth, Davenport and a score of others. Some record times are expected to be posted by the cars as one track is in excellent condition and a very fast field is entered. A summer-long racing program will be presented at the Mendota oval. Plans call for stock car racing, starting Friday night, June 2. Another big car event will be held later in the summer.

Mt. Morris Golf Team Wins From Oregon

Mt. Morris.—(Special)—The Mt. Morris high school golfers defeated Oregon here last night by an 8 1/2 to 3 1/2 score. Scoring one point for medal and one for match, the home team dominated the play through all but two matches. Fearer and McCarthy won Oregon's only points. Fearer took two from Fridley and McCarthy edged aines 1 1/2 to 1/2. ML Morris finished third in the district meet at Rockford last Saturday. Oregon plays at Dixon Wednesday night. Summaries

Musial Has 85 Point Lead as Pafko Slumps

New York, May 16 (AP)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals owned an 85-point bulge over his closest pursuer today in the race for the individual batting title of the National league. Andy Pafko of the Chicago Cubs, second a week ago, slipped to third. A mild slump dropped his average from .435 to .375.

Distant Star

BY HERMONA BLACK

PIERS AMBERLEY continued his story of Jon and Syrie's marriage, while Clemency listened intently.

"Syrie had never attempted to make the marriage a success. Jon had always been a playboy and she had never tried to make him anything else. She knew of his hereditary weakness for alcohol which might come out in him, yet when he was utterly miserable and worried about money, she never attempted to stop him from drinking too much. I have heard it said she encouraged him."

"Now she wanted a divorce, but it was determined she shouldn't shelve her responsibilities, and that Jon should have a chance. I reminded her of her lack of money. She might marry again and she might not. I suggested that I pay their debts, give them a home and allow them an income if Jon would pull himself together. The only condition was that Syrie stayed with him."

"I ought to have known when she consented that there was mischief in her mind. I've come to the conclusion that I am rather naive in some ways." His lips twitched.

"Well, Jon was on his mettle, he and I were friends again in the old way. He was ready to fight, I to help him. Within a few months he had stopped drinking altogether. But Syrie was neither happy nor satisfied. I did not realize what she was getting at. I liked to ignore the fact of her existence as much as possible, which was exactly what she did not want me to do."

HE passed, looking down at the glowing end of his cigarette, an expression of intense distaste on his face.

"Things came to a climax one night when I was sitting up very late in my study. I was reading a book I particularly wanted to finish when Syrie came in. She said she couldn't sleep and had come down to talk to me. I really can't go into details of the scene she made, but in the middle of it, he walked in. He was—was a naturally jealous disposition. I must confess the situation was a compromising one, and open to misinterpretation." His mouth twisted bitterly.

"Jon ought to have known me better—he admitted that for the first time today. But Syrie was desperate; she hated her husband, and imagined that she was still in love with me."

"But why did he stay here if he believed that?" Clemency asked.

"He thought that if he went, she and I would remain here together. Nothing would convince him that I didn't want her. I was harder, more bitter than I had ever been. I reminded him of Bzba. I said that the child ought not to be made to pay for others' mistakes. As for Syrie, she had been glad enough to remain at the beginning."

"But she had reckoned without her host. She soon wanted to go, and for the second time I let my anger, my desire to make her pay in the only way I knew how, cloud my judgment."

"I meant to punish Syrie. I succeeded in making the knife turn on you. Has it all been destroyed, Clemency?" He stood looking down at her.

She was silent for a moment, studying the handsome, unhappy face above her. Then she shook her head.

"No," she said, "nothing could really do that, as long as—it is me you love." She held out her hand and, as he took it, drew him down beside her.

SYRIE was in the night nursery when after dinner that evening Clemency passed through, ready to go for a drive with Piers.

Syrie glanced at Clemency unsmilingly, and then looked down at the magazine in her hands. She had done all that was necessary, it was not in her to ask forgiveness—or try to explain away her conduct. All pretense of any friendly feeling was finished between them. She had more reason to be bitter than Clemency had; she had lost.

But, thought Clemency as she went downstairs, she will always hate me.

Piers was waiting outside with the car. He helped her in and, taking the wheel beside her, drove off.

They had traveled even farther from the house than that first time, when Piers stopped the car. "I don't feel that we have really been alone for a moment all day until now, my precious," he said. "I wish there were a tent here in the desert, and I had the right to keep you in it—just you and I, and be damned to the rest of the world! Tomorrow I am going to take you into Biskra. I phoned Mrs. Sanderson this evening that you were coming, and you are to stay with them until we are married. I shall put up at the hotel. We'll leave Red Alocs to the Jon Amberley family at present—as soon as Baba is well enough to be moved, they are going."

"Oh, Piers, what about them?" she asked. "Can they ever—mend things?"

"Goodness alone knows!" said Piers.

They did not speak of Syrie. Obviously she was Jon's problem. They had at least decided to start on the new road together.

"If you can bear to go back to Red Alocs after our honeymoon, we shall have the house to ourselves," said Piers. "If you hate the place—"

"No, I couldn't hate it!" she exclaimed. "I found you there, and I shall always feel it is our home. We can exorcise the ghosts."

His arm about her, he took her hand and kissed the finger where the temporary engagement diamonds shone again. But when he would have drawn her closer, she held him off a little, her other hand against his shoulder.

He looked down at her a moment, then: "I'm all for laying ghosts," he said, "with bell, book, and candle."

Bandits Raid Greek Village, 'Take' Girl

Athens — (AP) — Thirty "bandits" raided a small village in northern Greece recently. But there were no shots fired, no houses burned, and no casualties reported.

The only "loot" was a pretty Greek maid whose mother had been holding out against her getting married. The "bandits," friends of the would-be-groom, revived an ancient Greek village custom to whisk the girl away from home. Still brandishing pistols, the cavaliers then routed a priest out of bed to perform the midnight ceremony.

Firemen Pry Loose 'Ironbound' Child

Chicago — (AP) — His mother told Michael Solin, 3, never to climb over an iron fence that divides a balcony in his apartment house. So Michael tried to crawl through it. His head was trapped between the iron bars. Firemen pried him loose.

'Jews Not Wanted' Sign Cuts Israel Off from Middle East

By FRED J. ZUSY
Jerusalem, May 16 — (AP) — Two years after the tiny Jewish state of Israel was born, a "Restricted—Jews Not Wanted" sign still is posted in the Arab Middle East.

This does not represent an anti-Semitic feeling as known in the West. Both Jews and Arabs had a common origin 3,500 years ago among the nomad desert tribes of the Arabian peninsula.

Shows Arab Opposition
It does represent strong Arab opposition to Israel as a Jewish nation. It is a political rather than racial matter.

Forty million Arabs grudgingly admitted the existence of Israel after their combined armies failed to drive the Jews from Palestine. Arab neighbor states signed armistice agreements with the new country little more than a million population.

This ended the fighting. But it didn't cut down the barbed wire fences which isolate Israel from its Arab neighbors.

Today a Jew can enter or leave Israel only by air or sea.

Refuse to Trade
Arab states refuse to trade with Israel. Some smuggling of food into Israel does go on despite this official economic blockade. Food is short in Israel and brings high prices.

Arab Iraq, several hundreds of miles away, stubbornly refuses to open its oil pipeline to the Haifa refinery in Israel, although Iraq is in great need of the millions of dollars of oil royalties it is losing.

Egypt bans Israel-bound ships from going through the Suez canal. No Arab state has granted diplomatic recognition to Israel.

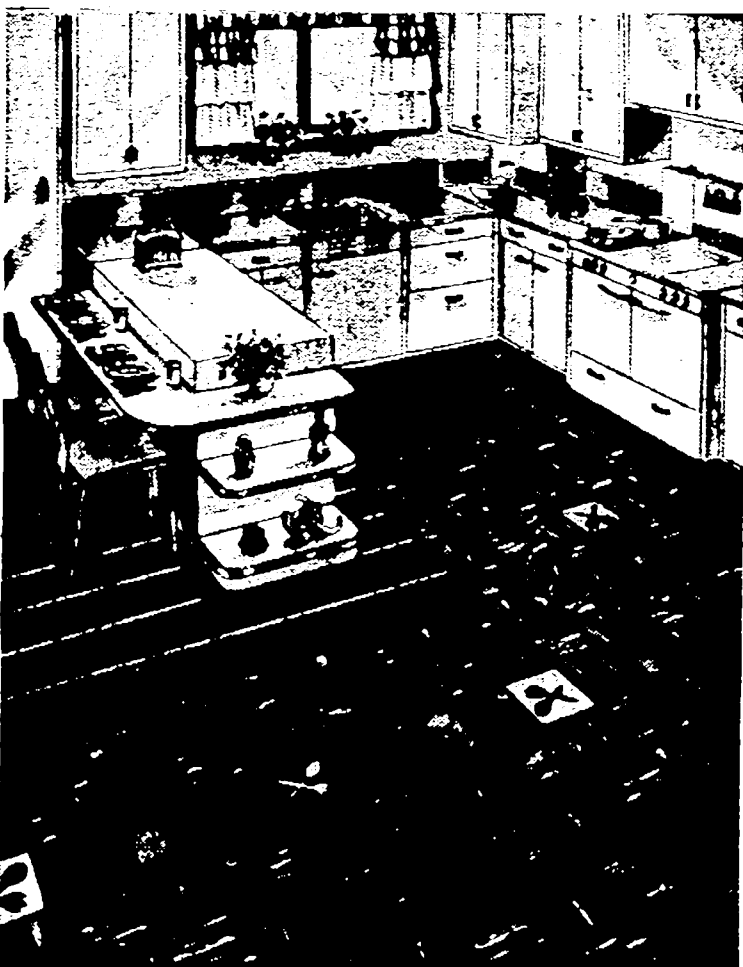

Might Sign Peace
There were some indications that King Abdullah, Bedouin ruler of the Hashemite kingdom of Jordan, might sign a peace. Recently, however, Jordan annexed most of what was left of Arab Palestine — including the old walled city of Jerusalem and the Biblical cities of Bethlehem and Jericho.

British recognition of this step applied to Arab Palestine a 1948 treaty under which Britain promises to defend Abdullah's territory from any aggression. Observers believe this strengthened Jordan's position and delayed any Jordan-Israel peace pact.

The Arab countries fear opening of any door to their Jewish neighbor. They are afraid Jewish economic dominance will follow any step across the threshold.

Fear Immigration
There is another fear: That the continued high rate of Jewish immigration—estimated at 150,000

PROCEEDINGS OF LEE COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS

State of Illinois County of Lee ss.

At the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon on Thursday, the 6th day of April A. D. 1950, the Board of Supervisors of Lee County met at the Court House in Dixon in monthly meeting.

Present Chairman Emmitt and Supervisors Hemenway, Barnes, Klingebiel, Vaupel, Archer, Elmer J. Miller, Higby, Prescott, Leon W. Miller, Sproul, Curran, Ford, Hess, Anderson, Mau, Kranov, Hasselberg, Finn, Favre, Spangler, Hey, Sandrock, Cortright, Kuebel, Webster, Risetter and Case.

A motion was made by Supervisor Leon W. Miller, seconded by Supervisor Case that all claims and communications on file be referred to the proper committees. Carried.

A motion was made by Supervisor Sproul, seconded by Supervisor Barnes that the board dispense with the regular business and proceed with the election of a new chairman for the year, who would not assume the chairmanship until just before the close of the meeting. Carried.

A motion was made by Supervisor Higby, seconded by Supervisor Elmer J. Miller that the name of Leon W. Miller be placed in line for Chairman. Carried.

There being no other nominations a motion was made by Supervisor Mau, seconded by Supervisor Spangler that the nominations be closed and the Clerk cast the unanimous ballot for all members for Leon W. Miller for Chairman for the year. Carried.

This was done by the Clerk.

At this time the newly elected Chairman thanked the members for electing him Chairman.

A motion was made by Supervisor Hemenway, seconded by Supervisor Barnes that the board members retain the same seats for the ensuing year. Carried.

A motion was made by Supervisor Mau, seconded by Supervisor Webster that the rules governing the board during the past year be the rules governing the board for the ensuing year. Carried.

At this time the Chairman mentioned that the board would proceed with the regular business.

The Clerk read the report of the Road and Bridge Committee as to claims which have been allowed by them but which must be approved by the entire board before payment can be made.

Dated April 6th, 1950

A motion was made by Supervisor Klingebiel, seconded by Supervisor Hey that the report be received, approved and placed on file. Carried.

The following Resolution on Motor Fuel Tax was read to the Board by the Clerk:

RESOLUTION FOR IMPROVEMENT BY COUNTY UNDER MOTOR FUEL TAX LAW

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of Lee County, Illinois, that the following described State Aid Route be improved under the Motor Fuel Tax law approved March 25, 1929:

State Aid Route 28 beginning at Station 11 3/2, a point approved March 29, 1929 of the Northeast corner of Section 35 Township 21 North, Range 9 East, of the 4th P. M. and extending along said route in a westerly direction to Sta. 60 60-56 a distance of approximately 4924 feet, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the improvement shall consist of a bituminous surface treatment subclass A-1 modified, 20 feet wide and shall be designated as Section 43S MFT, and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the improvement shall be constructed on contract

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that there is hereby appropriated the sum of Forty-five Hundred and no-100 dollars ($4,500.00) from the County's allotment of Motor Fuel Tax Funds for the construction of this improvement, and,

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Clerk is hereby directed to transmit two (2) certified copies of this resolution to the Department of Public Works and Buildings Division of Highways through its District Engineer's office at Dixon Illinois

A motion was made by Supervisor Cortright, seconded by Supervisor Sandrock that the Resolution be adopted as read. Said motion coming on for a roll call vote, the Clerk proceeded to call the roll with the result as follows:

Those voting Aye Supervisors Hemenway, Barnes, Klingebiel, Vaupel, Archer, Elmer J. Miller, Prescott, Leon W. Miller, Sproul, Curran, Ford, Hess, Anderson, Mau, Kranov, Hasselberg, Finn, Favre, Spangler, Hey, Sandrock, Cortright, Kuebel, Webster, Risetter and Case 26

Those voting Nay None

Thereupon the Chairman declared said motion unanimously carried

What Circus Giant Hated Most? 'How's the Weather Up There?'

By HAL BOYLE
New York—(AP)—The thing that Jack Earle hated most about being a circus giant was having people ask "how's the weather up there?"

"I figure I was asked that question at least 10,000 times," recalled Earle.

Eight-and-a-half feet! At 44 and still standing eight feet six and one-half inches, he is happy in his new career as "The World's Tallest Traveling Salesman."

You must remember Jack, probably the most famous and certainly the most talented of a long line of Ringling Brothers circus giants. "I used to sell my giant's lucky rings for a quarter," he grinned. "I sold thousands upon thousands of them. Every once in a while I still bump into someone who pulls out one of those rings, tarnished with age. I always offer to give them their quarter back if it hasn't brought them good luck."

Jack got his circus job in an odd way. As a child he had wanted to be a motion picture actor. And from the age of 13 to 17 he did appear as a gangling, overgrown kid in some 48 film comedies with Baby Peggy and other stars of the day.

Temporarily Blind
"One day I fell off a truck and went blind for more than four months," he said. "The injury hastened the growth of a pituitary tumor."

Jack's stature shot up weedlike as he was recuperating at his home in El Paso. One afternoon he went with some other boys to see the Ringling Brothers sideshow. He was amazed to find he was taller than "The World's Tallest Man." So was the circus. It promptly offered the youth a contract.

"I didn't want to be a sideshow freak," Jack said. "But I did want to earn a living. I traveled with the circus for 14 years. And by then all its glamor and color had ended for me."

Into Sales
After a trip to Australia, Earle returned and looked up an old friend who was working with the wine division of Schenley Industries. The company hired Jack to make a three-month good will tour—and he's been with them ever since.

He has graduated in that time from being an oddity to becoming one of the ablest merchandising specialists in the wine business.

It is lonely to be a giant in a world of smaller men, but Jack is a pretty well adjusted giant. He likes people.

Reads, Paints
"When I go to a low low," he said, "I go to my room, lock my door, and read a book or paint a picture. I have a hell of a lot of fun out of painting. I do nothing but water colors now, and I give them to my friends. A traveling man has no place to keep things."

Jack only met one man taller than himself in his life—Robert Wadlow, the late Alton, Ill., giant. "He stood 8 feet, 9 1/2 inches," Earle said. "I was so flabbergasted when I saw him the only thing

BUILD UP YOUR STARVED BLOOD; FEEL FINE QUICK

Certa-Vin Enriches Your Blood With Iron; Builds Stronger Nerves With Vitamin B; Relieves Gassy Stomach; Try This New Formula for Only a Few Cents a Day. Get It at Villiger's Drug Store.

Science has learned that too little hemoglobin (red coloring matter in blood) slows down energy and robs many people of that "healthy look."

Some victims scarcely know what is wrong with them. They feel like they are tied to a log everytime they try to do something. Their blood cells are shrunken or faded out. This is BLOOD STARVATION. Such persons wonder why tonics fail them—why they have to be half-sick and half-well—why they can't have their full share of energy.

Works With Your Food
Such discouraged people will now find—in CERTA-VIN—two liquid elements that regenerate Red Blood Cells. This is a new formula, known as a Hematonic. It is taken before meals and works with your food. Thus your food digests faster and better, with less gas and bloating, so you get the fullest good out of your meals. Soon your watery blood is enriched with Iron and your nerves are energized with Vitamin B. Your red blood count goes up, and you feel better all over.

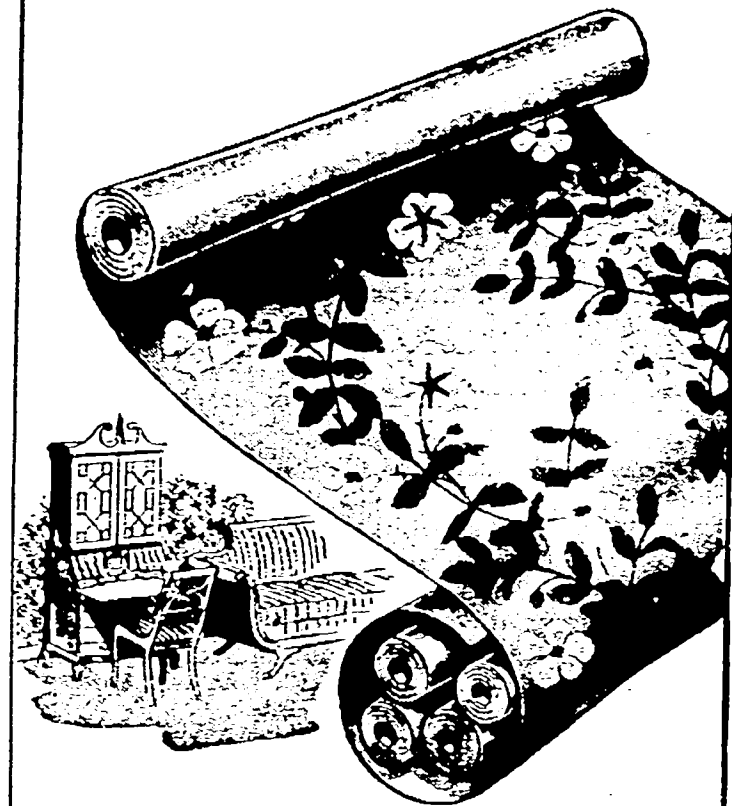

Benefit comes quickly, usually within 3 or 4 days. And the price of CERTA-VIN is reasonable. You can actually take this new medicine for a Few Cents a Day! So if you are a victim of blood poverty, gassy stomach, or lack vitality, don't go on suffering. Get CERTA-VIN at

County Rural Schools Tour Soil Conservation District

Two Lee county rural schools, including 31 pupils and their teachers toured the Lee county soil conservation district Tuesday, May 11.

The King school under the leadership of Miss Julia Brechon sponsored the soil conservation tour. Pupils of the Lee county school were accompanied by their teacher Mrs. Beth Barnhart. Several mothers drove cars in the six-car caravan.

In order to become familiar with the problem, pupils took samples of water from Three Mile Branch creek. Students learned that sheet, gully, and streambank erosion were responsible for soil being carried during high water.

On the Louis Meppin farm the group measured sheet erosion. Meppin uses conservation practices on most of his farm. The field studied was planted up-and-down hill into oats although conservation for the past few years. To the amazement of the pupils, they learned that the field had suffered large soil losses this spring. They measured many small gills to check the soil losses. Long slopes and heavy rains were responsible.

On the Charles Pitts farm, South Dixon township, the group measured a gully 10 feet deep, 30 feet wide and about a hundred yards long. The farmer explained that three farms drained into this gully.

Bill Briggs, district conservationist, soil conservation service, who conducted the tour said that farmers are working together in soil conservation districts to help save soil and water. Active streambank erosion was also studied on the Pitts farm.

Fitts explained how contour strip cropping saves both soil and moisture. All of his fields are in the process of being worked in alternate strips of corn and hay or grain and hay. An experiment was conducted showing how soil in the fence rows soaks up moisture much more rapidly than in a field a few feet away. Good conservation practices make soil more absorptive according to the conservationist.

Students learned how leaf litter acts like a blotter to soak up rain-fall. Briggs pointed out that proper woodland practices include prevention of fire and grazing.

On the Sid Buckaloo farm west of Dixon, a grass waterway was explained. A silt sample of Rock river taken by one of the older boys revealed muddy water. The girls beat the boys in finding samples of wildlife food. In a few minutes time the girls gathered up eight different kinds of bird food including insects and weed seed. A gravelly knoll planted by Roger Buckaloo as a 4-H club tree-planting project was observed. The group built a small sod dam in a waterway.

15,000 PULLETS—THAT'S A FLOCK!

Joliet, Ill. (Special)—There will be lots of cackling done before the pullets pictured above have produced, collectively, their three millionth egg next year. Some of the 15,000 Hy-Line Pullets being raised by Corn Belt Hatcheries this summer are shown as they appear on range in Northern Illinois. This is the first time as many as 15,000 Hy-Lines have been raised to maturity on one farm. But they won't stay around much longer. In September they'll be ready for their new homes, some going to Michigan and Wisconsin but most of them remaining in Illinois. Poultry raisers who did not raise chicks this Spring are, for the most part, the folks who will be the new owners of these pullets.

Tree Survives Battle With Ag Structure

Urbana—Kalopanax pictus has won its battle for survival with the new $2,350,000 animal science building at the Illinois college of agriculture.

Kalopanax pictus is a rare tree imported from northwest Asia in 1893. It was growing right where the new structure is to be built. It was due to "get the axe."

But somehow J. C. Blair learned of that danger. Blair, now retired agriculture college dean, had obtained the rare tree from Asia. Nobody knows exactly what he did about it, but anyway Kalopanax pictus now has a new lease on life.

This is the third transplanting for the 45-foot tree: First from Asia to the University orchard, then to a campus lawn in 1935, and now to a new spot only 50 feet distant out of harm's way.

And it looks none the worse for the ordeal.

Moving Kalopanax pictus took most of two days, two big caterpillar tractors and a power scoop shovel, two exasperated "cat" drivers (and their boss), some of the University's best brains, at least 300 sidewalk "quarterbacks," and five wire cables which snapped.

After the tree was loosened for moving, a trench 12 feet wide and three feet deep was dug from the present to the new location. The idea was to slide the tree, with soil around the roots, to its new home.

But the "cats" couldn't pull the tree—the cables snapped. Pushing didn't work either. Pulling and pushing together did no good. But cutting off some of the dirt around the roots finally did the trick. Man had conquered Nature, and preparation for the building is moving smoothly now.

A surplus of black soil found on the site is being moved elsewhere on the campus, and work will start on the building in the immediate future.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson has just released $2,287,500 appropriated by the 1949 legislature for the structure. Total budget is $2,350,000. Last August $62,500 was released for preliminary work.

Guernsey Trio from West Brooklyn End Advanced Records

Peterborough, N. H. — Three registered Guernsey cows, owned by George J. Montavon, West Brooklyn, have completed official advanced register records that were supervised by the University of Illinois and reported to the American Guernsey Cattle club for approval and publication.

On two times daily milking for a ten-month period, Sultan's Blossie of Norview, produced 9,991 pounds of milk and 462 pounds of butterfat, starting her record as a senior 3-year-old.

Also as a junior 2-year-old in the 365C day division, Sultan's Merry Maid of Norview produced 9,512 pounds of milk and 468 pounds of butterfat. Sultan's Merry Maid of Norview and Sultan's Blossie of Norview are the daughters of the registered Guernsey sire, Amos' Edna's Sultan, that has nine daughters in the performance register of the American Guernsey Cattle club.

Clean Plowing, Late Planting Repulse Borers

An insect specialist declared today that you can't rely on spraying alone to control corn borers. You need clean plowing and delayed planting first. All three together give best results in community-wide borer control.

So insists G. C. Decker, entomologist in the Illinois college of agriculture and Illinois Natural history survey.

He explains that early planting may increase borer numbers 5 to 10 times, but one spraying cuts their numbers only by half.

Insecticides may effectively protect individual fields from excessive damage, but alone they can't do a community-wide job of protection. You can cut over-all infestation in an area by spraying alone only by making several applications.

One spraying with DDT, properly timed and applied, will kill off 50 to 70 percent of the borers. In fields moderately to heavily infested, this degree of control may mean 5 to 10 more bushels of corn an acre. Each extra spraying seems to cut the remaining borers by about 50 percent.

Decker says spraying has its place. But let's do all the damage we can to borers now by delaying planting—as late as possible. Then follow up with spraying as needed.

The Gold Coast of West Africa is sixth among the world's gold-producing areas.

Supreme's Volvie of Norview produced 9,929 pounds of milk and 508 pounds of butterfat. Supreme's Volvie of Norview is the daughter of the famous Guernsey sire, Owendale's Supreme, that has 38 daughters and one son in the performance register of the American Guernsey Cattle club.

MODERNIZE THE OIL FILTERING SYSTEM ON YOUR OLD TRACTOR

BY REPLACING THESE... WITH THIS

Keeps Engine Oil Clean Twice as Long

Protect your tractor engine with the new International Harvester "umbrella" type filter element. It lasts twice as long as the familiar old-style cloth or metal strainers which had to be cleaned daily and is more efficient than the star-shaped cellulose element. Even under adverse operating conditions the "umbrella" element affords full protection for 120 hours of use (100 hours for Diesel engines).

This new element is made of special, creped cellulose, resin impregnated and baked to form a plastic-like material that withstands hot oil without collapsing. It keeps oil free from harmful material and filters out particles so small they can be measured only in microns. For maximum protection use the new "umbrella" element and change regularly at the recommended time interval. Take home a supply today.

Weather Could Worry Farmers If It Weren't for Machinery

Washington, May 16—(AP)—If it weren't for modern farm machinery, old man weather might well have Americans worrying about this year's food production prospects.

The agriculture department reports that bad weather had delayed the spring planting season two or three weeks in the northern two-thirds of the country.

In past decades of the horse-drawn plow and planter, such delays often were serious. But high-speed tractors, multiple-plows and planters now make it possible for farmers to catch up quickly, especially by working around the clock.

Crops hampered so far by unfavorable weather include wheat, oats, barley, cotton, corn, and soybeans. The winter wheat crop may be the smallest since 1943 and about 195,000,000 bushels—with a farm value of nearly 400,000,000—below the department's forecast of last December.

Winter wheat prospects declined 74,000,000 bushels in April after dropping off 122,000,000 bushels between last Dec. 1 and April 1.

But a reserve of 450,000,000 bushels from past big crops assures ample wheat supplies to meet indicated market demands.

Not only has dry weather in the great plains and wet, cool weather in other areas hindered production. Frosts in the South have heavily damaged the peach crop. The yield may be less than half last year.

In most of the main Midwestern corn belt, planting of this grain and of soybeans has been delayed by cold, wet weather. But as in the case of wheat, there is a big reserve from past crops to help supply demands in event of a short crop of corn this year.

'Doubtful' If Price Supports Are Needed Now

It is "doubtful" that farm price supports are needed to maintain a fair farm income in times of high world prices and active business such as we've had since the war.

That's the view given today by L. J. Norton, agricultural economist in the Illinois college of agriculture.

Norton believes that even without supports prices of corn, soybeans, and wheat would not have averaged much below actual market prices for the past two years. The reasons—high world price levels, good economic conditions, and relatively good hog prices.

Norton says if price supports are set too high, we store up trouble for the future. Price supports may lead to stock-piling of supplies. Later when this surplus is sold, prices will be lower than they would otherwise have been.

Surpluses lead to acreage allotments which lower the probable output of farmers who comply. And if production is lower, future prices will tend to be higher.

The American League's all-time attendance record of 11,150,099 was set during the 1948 season.

Biggest-Capacity Combine on Wheels

RACINE, WIS.—Easier harvesting in the nation's vast grain belt will be experienced next year with this newest and biggest capacity combine on wheels. Developed by Massey-Harris company engineers, who produced the first really successful Self Propelled combine 11 years ago, the machine has a 16-foot table. Balanced Separation and a variety of operating conveniences. Welcome news to the big wheat farmers is that it can harvest up to 70 acres per day. For the smaller farmer is another new model, with a 12-foot table and capable of harvesting 50 acres per day.

Balanced Separation means perfect control of grain and straw in the cutting, elevating, feeding and thorough threshing, result of which is shown.

A high and low gear with 12 speed variations on each, provides the widest practical variety of operation needs with instant changing to meet varying conditions.

Kai'shek's Army Leaves Cushans

Taipei, May 16—(AP)—Nationalist China tonight announced abandonment of the Chushan islands.

The official announcement, coming on the heels of vows by the Nationalists to defend the islands to death, said 150,000 troops were evacuated.

Only yesterday a Nationalist general from there said the battle for the Chushans had not started.

The Chushans were extremely important to the Nationalists. From that base 100 miles south-east of Shanghai an effective air and naval blockade of the big Communist port had been effected.

Earlier today, Chiang Kai-Shek pledged to die defending Formosa—the only island left to the Nationalists—if he cannot beat back the Communist tide that previously swallowed all of mainland China.

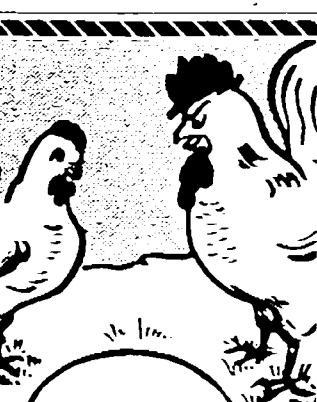

DEAF MAN WEARS OWN HEARING AID

Mr. Harold Lyons of Peoria, Illinois, who has been hard of hearing for twenty years, was annoyed at the "static" in the hearing aid he was wearing. He decided to perfect one of his own. The result was a midget hearing aid so true and clear in tone that it seemed almost like normal hearing.

He was amazed to hear sounds he hadn't heard in years. The whistle of the tea kettle. The ticking of the clock, and singing of the birds—all the "little homey" sounds that mean so much.

His hearing aid was such a success that he decided to make them for others. It is suggested, if interested for yourself or a friend, that you write to Mr. Lyons, 400 S. Washington St., Peoria, Illinois.

Space, Homes Problems of Agriculture

The two most urgent problems in farm buildings this year are more and better crop storage space and improved farm homes.

But D. G. Carter, farm building specialist in the Illinois college of agriculture today issued a warning to persons planning these and other farmstead improvements. Before you plan even one building, the first thing to do is to study your farm program, including production, livestock numbers, and use of your own labor.

Then make up a long-time plan to meet future needs. Choose a system of operation or construction that takes care of first needs first, and finally gets plans for construction. In that way, you'll wind up with buildings that fit your needs.

You can get help on farm building problems from your county farm advisor or from the college of agriculture, Urbana.

Commercial Fertilizer May Offset Corn Borer Threat

Adding commercial fertilizer in the row for corn will help offset late planting this spring made necessary by the critical threat of a damaging corn borer infestation, declared the Middle West Soil Improvement committee.

Entomologists warn that the worst outbreak of European corn borer in history may occur on Midwestern farms this year, says one statement. "Late planting is one effective way to combat the danger. The use of insecticides once signs of the borer appear will reduce losses."

Illinois University agronomists recommend delaying corn planting until at least May 20. Planting dates in other Midwestern states are later, too.

Using fertilizer in the row will hasten maturity of the corn and help avert the danger of soft corn from early autumn frosts, the committee points out.

Row fertilization gets the crop off to an early start and gives it the jump on weeds. It helps the seedling quickly to develop a good, sturdy root system at the growth state when the plant is not strong enough to forage for itself. It puts the corn on the road to making good yields.

The committee cautions farmers, however, not to expect a little fertilizer added in the row to do the entire job of providing nutrients for the corn crop. To make high yields your soil has to be well supplied with plant food. If the soil's supply is low, you need to add sufficient nitrogen, phosphate and potash fertilizer to properly nourish the crop. This can be broadcast before planting or added in the row, so there will be an ample, well-balanced supply of nutrients to bring the crop through to high-yielding maturity.

Dairy Association To Meet May 22-23

Helping dairy farmers produce milk more efficiently is the object of a meeting to be held May 22-23 at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

L. R. Fryman, extension dairyman, said today those are the dates for the annual meeting of about 90 dairy herd improvement association testers in Illinois. Program topics include making grass silage, feeding problems, breeding better dairy cows, DHIA problems, dairy research, and herd improvement register testing.

A judging and type classification contest is set for Monday afternoon, May 22, with prizes to be awarded at the banquet that night. The five testers with the best over-all program for the year will be honored then also.

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Here below is not the land of happiness: I know it now: it is only the land of toil, and every joy which comes to us is only to strengthen us for some greater labor that is to succeed.—Fichte.

The County Press Says

Victorville, Calif., News-Herald: "Are the people of this nation becoming plain, ordinary panhandlers—beggars from the government? Individuals, towns, cities and states have their hands out for federal aid."

Moro, Oregon, Sherman County Journal: "We have aided labor organizations until they now have assumed some of the characteristics of the trusts of the first of this century. They prevent production and make necessary price increases for their own personal welfare."

International Falls, Minn., Daily Journal: "More than 14,000,000 Americans have laid their savings on the line to buy big and little buildings, big and little machines, to turn out literally millions of useful products. These people are shareholders, men and women who put their spare money into business and industry. These people have worked and saved, and their savings are used to build America's production."

Oskaloosa, Iowa, Daily Herald: "Out of the government suit against the A & P may come a clarification of the anti-trust laws so that they will be used to preserve competition but will not be used to destroy all of the great business organizations of this country which have done so much to give the American people the highest standard of living ever enjoyed by any people anywhere in the history of the world."

New Albany, Indiana, Tribune: "France was neither the first nor the last to try to thrive by spending cheap money. Every nation trying the system believes it can be made to work, and ends by proving the contrary. New nations, new governments in old nations are always learning the hard way. That the father may have had bad burns in the fire, teaches his baby nothing."

Emporia, Kansas, Gazette: "Today, the boy or girl who seeks part time or vacation employment, or tries to get started in a job with no experience, finds the higher minimum wage a stumbling block. Many an employer used to hire up-and-coming youngsters and start them at a beginning wage while they learned a trade or a business. Now, that is the exception rather than the rule."

Berlin, Maryland, Eastern Shore Times: "The pity of it is that under our present system of big government and big spending the average citizen seems to utterly fail to realize that he is picking up the check."

Macksville, Kansas, Enterprise: "It was 'taxation without representation' that brought on King George's trouble way back in 1776. And ever since that time, Americans have considered it not only their privilege, but their duty to complain about taxes."

Lewistown, Pennsylvania, Sentinel: "We haven't much sympathy with the fellow who is ready to be generous with our money."

Ablene, Kansas, Daily Reflector-Chronicle: "At no time since the redemption of 'E' bonds was started has the person who received $100 been able to buy as much with his money as he could have bought 10 years before with the $75 that he paid for the bond. Maybe the country can stand this fantastic financing—if it cannot it will be just too bad."

Humboldt, Iowa, Republican: "We may just as well quit kidding ourselves. As long as we demand the services from government that we are now demanding, we will have to pay the taxes. There is no such thing as shifting the payment of taxes to the other fellow."

Clarksdale, Mississippi, Press Register: "Co-ops keep their tax-exempt privilege despite the huge annual business of such organizations."

Mantua, Ohio, Record: "The voters of America are faced with a choice of individual opportunity or 'welfare' security. Given the whole truth, there is no doubt that their choice will be the right one."

Paris, Tennessee, Parisan: "Needless bureaus should be eliminated, and the overlapping divisions of our government should be merged."

Jefferson Jubilee

At Mr. Truman's "Jefferson's Jubilee," as some Chicago Democrats with no sense of humor have named it, Vice President Barkley, speaking at a civic dinner, about the dummy cabinet meeting staged for the benefit of the credulous on Sunday, said that the members of Mr. Truman's cabinet "are executing policies as would Thomas Jefferson."

And, as though the joke had not been carried far enough, he went on to say, with a straight face, that today's Democrats are "lineal descendants" of the author of the Declaration of Independence.

Ignoring the fact that both Washington and Jefferson had warned the coming generations in this country repeatedly against foreign entanglements, a speaker representing the Secretary of State told how the Democratic foreign policy has the same aims as Washington and Jefferson, "to make us happy at home and respected abroad."

What possible reply could anyone make to such colossal brass?

Quartz crystals, better than Mother Earth herself can make, have been produced artificially. Needed in industry to convert mechanical energy, such as sound, into electrical energy, synthetic quartz crystals will protect the nation against a shortage of natural crystals in case of another war.

Chronic Running Nose Cure Takes Time, Irritation Must Be Discovered, Beaten

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

A chronic running nose is an all too common and distressing condition.

Q—I have a nasal condition which my doctor calls catarrh. Is this curable? If not, what would ease the condition? G.H.

A—Catarrh is a rather old-fashioned name and doctors now more commonly call it vasomotor rhinitis. Both names refer to a condition in which the delicate lining of the nose secretes more than the usual amount of mucous fluid which necessitates constant blowing of the nose and often dripping down the back of the throat. In most cases, the condition seems to be caused by sensitiveness or allergy to something in the air, whether this be house dust, pollen from growing things, or some other foreign protein. The problem is twofold: first, to find what particular substance is causing the irritation, and second, to remove it from the atmosphere. Both of these steps may be difficult especially the second. Unless the second is successfully accomplished however, or unless the patient can be given injections of the offending substance and can build up a resistance to it, the catarrh or vasomotor rhinitis will almost certainly continue.

Q—A five-year-old boy has his hair falling out in patches. What can be done to stop this? J.G.

A—This condition sounds like alopecia areata. Its cause is not known, but skin specialists have several treatments which they use for it. In most cases the hair eventually grows back.

Q—I know a man 74 years old who is beginning to feel sorry for himself without any apparent reason and drinks a quart of whiskey in a week.

A—No one feels happy about growing older, but many elderly people adjust themselves to the problems of their increasing years without relying on alcohol. Some physicians, however, believe that a certain amount of alcohol may be helpful to the elderly person, but since there may be reason against this in individual cases and since the amount taken should be kept to a modest quantity, it would be well for your friend not to take more whiskey than his physician advises.

Q—I was once told that a nylon hair brush shouldn't be used. If this is true, what is the reason? H.G.

A—I do not know of any reason why a nylon hair brush should not be used, nor why it should harm the scalp in any way.

Q—If a person had a venereal disease (unknowingly) and went to the hospital for a minor operation, would it show up in the blood test? H.S.S.

A—The presence of syphilis would show up in the blood test in most cases.

Q—My father had iritis from an injury for many years and recently it has become serious. The doctor has advised taking the eye out since he said it would completely cure the difficulty.

A—There is danger that iritis in one eye would affect the other so that sometimes, as is apparently the case with your father, it is wise to remove the involved eye.

A—The right of the United States government to seize the property of any enemy alien, regardless of where he lives or whether he had in any way sympathized with the enemy, has been upheld.

Q—What English season corresponds to our Indian Summer?

A—St. Martin's Summer, a period of fine weather in the late autumn in Great Britain, is the equivalent of our Indian Summer.

Q—How do we account for the present size of the Chintheague Island ponies?

A—The island is the original home of the Chintheague ponies. The inbreeding of the original stock and the marsh grass diet on which these animals have fed for generations is the generally accepted theory of an explanation of their size.

Q—How old a book is the Gospel according to St. Mark?

A—It is the earliest of the four Gospels and is thought to have been written about 70. A. D. There is little dispute concerning its authorship.

Q—What is the origin of the word coquette?

A—It describes a woman who flirts, struts and preens like a rooster, hence "coquette," the French diminutive for rooster.

Generous George

Gave Him a Game

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service

"Every day," said Generous George, "I'm Be Kind to Your Opponents Day. You don't get anywhere being greedy and trying for all the tricks there are in the deck."

"A very pretty sentiment," growled one of his opponents. "Only I wish your kindness didn't cost me so much!"

He had good reason to complain. George had just made game and rubber where a greedier player would have been set.

The opening lead was the jack of spades, dummy covered with the queen, and East put up the king. It was at this point that George, playing the South hand, made one of the plays for which he was so well known. Instead of taking the trick with his ace of spades, he played a low spade, allowing East to hold the trick.

Now the defenders were unable to defeat the contract. If East continued spades, South could take his ace and trump the last spade in dummy. It would then be easy to draw trumps, giving up one spade, one trump, and one club.

East actually decided to lay down the ace of hearts, drawing dummy's only trump. He then led another spade, hoping that his partner had the ace. As it turned out, however, South was able to win the trick with the ace of spades, draw the rest of the trumps, and then run the diamonds. He therefore made his contract with an overtrick.

It is interesting to note that George would have been set if he had not been so generous at the first trick. For example, if South wins the first trick with the ace of spades, and then leads trumps, the opponents can take the ace of hearts, two spade tricks, and the ace of clubs.

If declarer tries to get a spade ruff by returning a spade at the second trick, the defenders can take that spade, draw one trump with the ace of hearts, and then take another spade and the ace of clubs. Abundant Living

By
E. STANLEY JONES

II Cor. 5:20; Eph. 5:20; Acts 1:13-20

THE KINGDOM SPEAKS WHEN YOU SPEAK We must continue to pursue the thought that we do not merely belong to the Kingdom—the Kingdom belongs to us. This is so important, that once you get hold of it all argument and hesitation and fear are at an end. You enter abundant living.

An ambassador represents his country—all the powers and privileges of his country center in him. When he speaks, the country speaks; when he decides, the country decides—provided he is not speaking on his own, provided he is surrendered to the will of his country, provided he has merged his interests in the interests of his country. When entirely surrendered, he is entirely masterful—up to the limit of the resources of the country he represents.

If you have merged your interests in the Kingdom of God, if you are entirely surrendered to it, if you speak representing not yourself, but the Kingdom, then all the powers of the Kingdom center in you—a Universe speaks when you speak; a Universe acts when you act; a Universe lives when you live. The resources of earthly kingdoms are so limited—the resources of the Kingdom of God are so unlimited. That government which stretches from the lowest cell to the farthest star comes to focus in you—it is all yours! Some high-school boys were discussing a certain Christian, and one of them said, "He's got what it takes!" Yes, for he takes what he's got! Had he been standing alone, he would not have what "it takes." But taking from the Kingdom, he could "take it" from life. He was invulnerable.

A little boy of five, son of a minister, said to me, "We preach down in Troy." I loved that: when the father preached, he preached, and when the little boy preached by his life, the father preached. He accepted the corporate responsibility—he merged his interests in the father's, and felt the corporate accomplishment.

You work with the Spirit of God, and the Holy Spirit is the Comforter, the Strengthened, or, to use a colloquial translation, "the Stand-by."

O God, I merge my interests in the Kingdom; I accept its responsibilities; and, and—dare I say it?—I inherit its powers! Help me to be unafraid of being great—of being great in surrender, great in responsibility, great in resources, great in myself, because great in Thee. Amen.

Facing Financial Worries Can Lengthen Life Span

The average life span of white women in the U. S. has reached a new high of 71 years, while the average span for white men is 65½ years, the Public Health Service reports.

There is a challenge to every wife in America in those figures. Is there anything that they can do to help raise the life expectancy of their husbands?

I think there is, if they start soon enough.

A wife who makes her husband's health and happiness her business can help him in many, many ways.

She can see to it that he eats well-balanced meals. That he takes care of himself when he is sick. That he gets the rest he needs to fit him for the next day's work.

But that is only a small part of it. Perhaps the most important thing a wife can do to lengthen her husband's life is to see that he isn't overburdened with worry, and to help him achieve financial security so that he doesn't become desperate when he begins to feel he is getting too old for his job.

MUST RECOGNIZE NON-ESSENTIALS To do those two things a woman has to have through the years a sound sense of values. She has to know what is really important to the family's welfare and what can be bypassed and done without.

So many of the things women today regard as absolutely necessary aren't necessary at all.

Yet many women keep their husbands just one jump ahead of the next paycheck or one jump behind by encouraging them to live beyond the family's means.

And when a family is living beyond its means, the strain of it, the worry and the fear of the future fall heavily on the husband.

A happy wife who looks after her husband's health, does all that she can to ease his financial burden, and encourages him to have vital interests outside his job that he can turn to more and more in his later years, is doing a great deal to add extra years to her husband's life. That I firmly believe.

Small Businessman Object Of Government's Concern

By CLARGE BEACH

Washington, May 16—(AP)—If your business is a small one your government is mighty worried about you.

You're the backbone of the nation, the hope of democracy, the vanishing American. Your problems probably have been the subject of more investigations, studies, committee hearings and reports than those of anybody else in the nation. Somebody once figured that between 1933 and 1944 congress passed more than 570 bills and resolutions dealing with some aspects of the problems of small business.

The Commerce Department ranks nine-tenths of all businesses as "small."

Small Business Loans

The crusade on behalf of small business got another shot in the arm early this month when the president sent a message to Capitol Hill asking for new legislation for the small business man—to make it easier for him to borrow money.

This is the 1950 "solution" to the small-business problem.

The 1890 "solution" was the Sherman Anti-Trust Act, the law which tried to prevent big business from growing too big and absorbing all the little businesses. Congress went to work again and again trying to tighten up its anti-trust legislation. This effort still rates about No. 2 among the popular "solutions."

During the war congress tried in all kinds of ways to keep small business alive and enable it to share in the war effort. Many laws and directives provided that small firms get their share of scarce materials of government contracts, of capital. The armed forces are still directed to give small enterprises a fair share of their orders.

The number of small businesses

Beginning Friday, May 19th

dropped alarmingly in the depression. After the war they picked up when veterans, with full pockets, got into businesses of their own. Now the total number is on the downgrade again. That's what is worrying the president and congress.

Every day 1,000 small businesses disappear, according to Charles F. Huggett, chief of the small business division of the Department of Commerce. Every day new small businesses are created, but the number of new ones is always a little short of 1,000.

Many of the small businesses which disappear are merged with big business, which is getting bigger all the time.

The president and practically everybody else say they recognize the importance of big business. But what the government leaders worry about is that most of small business may be absorbed by big business.

If the government should ever come to believe that big business is threatening to grow dangerous here, leaders believe it would increase controls and regulations until it practically runs all the nation's industry. They say democracy and the free enterprise system would be lost.

Right now there's still a lot of power in the hands of small businessmen. The Commerce Department classes 3,600,000 of the nation's 4,000,000 business enterprises as small. They account for 45 per cent of the gross national product and employ about 35 per cent of the working people.

Pennsylvania Primary Fight For GOP Power

Philadelphia, May 16—(AP)—A stormy battle for control of Pennsylvania's Republican forces went before the electorate in the pivotal GOP stronghold today. Outcome of the primary balloting could be a major factor in determining the party's 1952 presidential candidate.

The primary climaxed six weeks of statewide stumping by GOP cardholders seeking the party nomination for the U. S. senate seat now held by Democratic senator Francis J. Myers and for the governorship now held by James H. Duff.

Duff, who by law cannot succeed himself, is a candidate for the party's senatorial nomination. He is opposed by Rep. John C. Kunze, six term congressman backed by long-time party leader Joseph R. Grundy.

Matched against each other in the gubernatorial races were former State Superior Court Judge John S. Fine, the Duff candidate, Jay Cooke, former Philadelphia GOP chairman, who has Grundy's backing and Lycoming County Judge Charles S. Williams, an independent.

The Democrats also nominate, but their campaign has been quiet. Myers is unopposed for re-nomination and Richardson Dilworth

Philadelphia city treasurer, has only one token opposition in the gubernatorial race.

The key men in the Republican rift are Duff and Grundy. Grundy, at 87, is the principal GOP strategist and has been so for the past three decades.

The 67-year-old Duff has challenged the Grundy leadership and has called on Republicans to discard what he calls "Grundysm"—government by a few, for the benefit of a few, at the expense of the public.

In reply Kunze accused Duff of "putting his personal ambitions above the general good of the party."

Soviets Allow Reparation Cut In East Germany

Berlin, May 16—(AP)—Russia announced a sharp cut in East Germany's war reparations bill today. The news touched off a big Communist propaganda campaign extolling Soviet "generosity and helpfulness."

Anti-Communist Germans and allied officials promptly labeled Prime Minister Stalin's reparations cut an empty gesture and "phony bookkeeping" aimed at countering the recent announcement that occupation controls would be relaxed in Western Germany.

Moscow radio disclosed Stalin informed East German Premier Otto Grotewohl that Russia was cutting the balance of the Soviet occupation zone's reparations bill in half, leaving $1,171,000,000 to be paid in the next 15 years. Moscow's original demand made at Potsdam in 1945 was for $10,000,000,000 in war reparations.

Stalin's letter was in reply to an East German request for a reduction to "aid democratic reconstruction" in the Soviet zone of occupied Germany.

Racio Berlin and other Soviet-controlled stations speedily broadcast the Moscow announcement and hailed it as a generous gesture of economic assistance.

Election of officers for Student Council was held at North Central school. Voting was close, but Paul Carlson came out just a little ahead of James Burbank for the presidency. Bud Melvin was defeated by only a few votes by Glen Rosebrook for the office of vice-president, while Jimmy Carlson was chosen as secretary over strong competition offered by Buddy Gerlach.

Candidates were nominated from each fifth, sixth, and seventh grade room, while Mr. Krakow's eighth grade was in charge of the election. Registration was held on Tuesday with the voting taking place Thursday. Campaigning was carried on in the early part of the week by placing posters in halls and room of the school building. Wednesday was the outstanding day of the campaign with demonstrations put on out of doors. Costume parades, cheering, banners, and many other means were used to campaign for the various candidates. At an assembly program candidates were introduced and provided with an opportunity to speak briefly to the group.

Marion Unit At Morrisseys

Marion Home Bureau met recently at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Morrissey with Mrs. Joe Sweeney as co-hostess. Chairman, Mrs. Robert Lievan called the meeting to order with all singing "Springtime." Roll was answered by 17 members. Secretary, Mrs. Charles Dunphy gave the secretary-treasurer's reports. Mrs. Robert Lievan explained the new plan for the entire county members to pay dues in September. Mrs. Carl Ackert was appointed temporary radio chairman.

Mrs. William Fitzpatrick volunteered to act as legislative chairman.

The major lesson "Understanding Our Social Graces" was given by Mrs. Carl Ackert. Mrs. Don Anderson gave the minor lesson, "Use of the Fork." The health lesson "Soil and Its Relation to Health," was given by Mrs. Carl Ackert. A collection of three cents from each member was taken for Home Bureau Federation.

Visitors welcomed at this meeting were County vice chairman, Mrs. Henry Faber, Mrs. Edward Ackert, Mrs. Lawrence Montanion, and Mrs. Nellie McCoy.

C. J. U. Class "Kid's Party"

Helen Zbinden was hostess to the "Kids' Party" of the C. J. U. class. All were dressed in reminiscence of their childhood days.

The business meeting was opened with a prayer by Alice Gabelman. Roll call was answered with reference to a Bible mother and her child. Plans were made for the next meeting which is to be a picnic at Lowell park, June 25.

Following the meeting all participated in a scavenger hunt. Prizes were "kid" toys awarded to Elsie Grobe, Karl Gabelman, Shirley Grobe, Albert Kastner, and Bro. Watkins. Refreshments concluded the evening.

Collectors to Shine at Show

The collector's room at the Maytime Flower and Fashion show at the Loveland Community House this week will have a group of outstanding and varied exhibits. This department is under the direction of Mrs. W. B. Richardson and she has made a special effort to choose things which will appeal to different people.

Bill Hook of Oregon is one of only 400 collectors in the United States of old toy trains. He will exhibit a number of these and it will be the first time such an exhibit has been shown to the public in this part of the country. There will be an example of the first type of cast iron pull train and the first cast iron mechanical train made in the U. S.

The oldest electrical train to be exhibited will be from 1907 and is complete and in operating condition. Only six others of this type are known to be in operating condition in the United States.

Miss Ella B. Kentner has a collection of over 200 strands of beads which she has acquired from many different sources. She has strung beads from Hawaii, California, Florida and other places. She has purchased beads from many parts of the United States and in Europe. One of her most unusual strings is made of carved bone and comes from China.

Mrs. Homer Erzinger started collecting miniature shoes about five years ago and now has over 80 which have come from all parts of the U. S. and several foreign countries. Some of the prize ones include a tiny one carved from pearl and set with small stones and used as a watch fob, a shoe from the Indians of the Great Smokies made from the different clays of the region, a small wooden sandal-clog from Siam, a pair of Mexican Huaraches one inch long, the "old lady that lived in the shoe" with all her children carved from wood, blown glass shoes and hand-carved wooden shoes.

Miss Esther Barton has been especially interested in the colorful textiles of Guatemala and will show a number of these. The Indian tribes which inhabit the highland area have retained many of the costumes of Pre-Columbian days. Each tribe has a distinctive costume. The textiles are hand-dyed, beautifully colored and uniquely designed. It is typical of many tribes to use designs with animals and people in them.

Mrs. Marie Stimeling has a collection of over 120 Staffordshire trinket boxes which were used on dressers in grandmother's day. They were ornately designed with interesting groups from children at play and tea to household pets, floral arrangements, musical groups and historical groups. A description of these recently appeared as a featured article in the magazine "The Spinning Wheel". She will show a number of the more rare and distinguished ones at the show this week.

Mrs. Herbert Smith has made a hobby of gathering shells from the various beaches of the United States. She has been especially interested in the large shells which she has found, some of which are six inches long. They are unusual and she has had difficulty in identifying many of them. In the show she will exhibit specimens from New Guinea, Hawaii, the west coast of the U. S., the gulf coast along Texas and also along

Relief Corps Hears Program

Members of Dixon Woman's Relief corps No. 218 enjoyed a picnic dinner in the Loveland Community House preceding the regular meeting recently. The dinner was served at tables decorated with spring flowers.

Following the dinner a program was presented as follows: Group singing, led by Mrs. Pearl Dietrich with Mrs. Francis Swartz accompanist; piano numbers, Maidens Wish, Japanese Etude, and To Spring, Mrs. Lloyd Hopkins; humorous readings, Mrs. Mary Deutsch; poem, To Mother, Mrs. Pearl Dietrich; song, group.

During the business sessions plans were made for Memorial day; presenting a flag to a Sunday school class and the luncheon for the Christian church convention.

The next meeting will be June 26, when reports of the department convention will be given by Mrs. Mabel Beers, president, and Mrs. Bess Brant, delegate, who will attend the convention to be held in Peoria, June 13, 14 and 15 at the Pere Marquette hotel.

Enjoy Musical

One of the outstanding concerts of the season was presented Friday evening when the advanced piano and voice pupils of Mrs. E. M. Goodsell presented a Spring Musical. The appreciative and large audience was delighted by the solo and group presentations of the well known classics and by the songs of William Bond, guest soloist.

MR.-MRS. CLASS

Lee Center—The Mr. and Mrs. Sunday school class of the Lee Center Congregational church will hold a social evening Wednesday, April 17 at 8 o'clock in the new church dining room. The Orville Garrisons and the Roy Dallans are on the committee. Mrs. C. Robert Knittle is the teacher. All young married couples are invited to attend.

WEDDING BREAKFAST

A breakfast honoring the Stager-Gould bridal party was given Saturday at 11 a.m. at "Ogle-side", Grand Detour, the summer home of Atty. and Mrs. John Stager.

The table decorations were very attractive, made so with white wedding bells, white stocks and snapdragons. There were 30 guests at the breakfast.

Follies Fables

The Liniment is back on the shelves and everyone is beginning to feel like a true veteran. It's fun for all, and the Follies of 1950 is going to be better in every way than the '45 show.

Dropped by to see the high school chorus practice, and they are cuter and brighter than brand new pennies. David Kirk, Jr. sings the "Secretary Song" and Bob Armstrong, George Aschenbrenner, Dick Dussing, Michael Jones, Faye Lightner, Don Sprout, Jim Schmidt, Ronald Smith, Neva Heckman, Patricia Wadsworth, Norma Staley, Jan Noble, Anne Arnold, Judy Jones, Anne Beamblossom, Anne Chapman, Betty Newman and Mildred Baker do the cleverest and gayest bibbidi-bop dance you have yet to see. Truly worth the price of admission to this coming generation perform.

Also noticed that "Dorie" Jones, Diane Reynolds, Frank Daschback, and Mark Keller Jr. had joined the Charleston chorus. And Barbara Campbell is now lending a true Hawaiian flavor to the Hula with her deep Florida tan.

One of the cleverest musical skits in the whole show is strictly behind the iron curtain. The song to be sung is "Money Isn't Everything", but try as we may we can't find out who is in the cast, even though we offered our talent. But I did hear that some prominent young lawyer's wife would let down her hair in this scene.

Saw one of the billboards for the voting of the Follies Queen being carried down the street, and feel sure you must have tripped over it as you passed down the busy thoroughfare. If you haven't voted, be sure to, and you do have your choice of blondes, brunettes, or redheads. They are all very attractive, and the girls will be presented on stage during the show.

To Be Wed

Mrs. Nora Haas of Rock Falls, announces the approaching marriage of her daughter, Doris, to Denny Vaile, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Vaile, 1916 Fourth street, Dixon. The wedding will be June 3 at St. Patrick's church, Dixon.

WSCS LUNCHEON

Thursday at 12:30 the WSCS of the Methodist church Circles 1, 2, 3 and 4 will have a scramble lunch at the church. There will be annual reports of the officers and a pledge service followed by business meetings of each circle. New members will be special guests.

Grand Detour School Holds Closing Days

The closing days of the Grand Detour school have included many activities. Among them a play day with the Merchant School of Harmon; a hike to the woods and a picnic dinner for both rooms and mothers; a chartered bus trip to Dixon State hospital and a luncheon at the Colonial inn for the Mothers Forum.

In addition to the above events the graduating class entertained Mrs. Malach, their teacher, at a dinner party at the Landmark.

School in Grand Detour will close May 15. Reports and conferences with parents are scheduled for the closing day.

Grand Detour was at one time the largest rural school in Ogle county. Four years ago the present building was converted into a two-room school which is now greatly overcrowded with an enrollment of 60. Plans are now under way for an addition to the present building and it is hoped that this will be ready for the reopening of school. The present board of directors is Thomas Winebrenner, Ivan Bovey and Clifford Young.

Teachers, Mrs. Marie Malach and Mrs. Iva Callahan have accepted contracts for the coming year.

Eighth grade graduates are: Mary Byron, Elizabeth Shaw, Betty Lowry, Robert Brockwell, Spencer Aurand and William Mansell.

METHODIST MEN

The Methodist Men will have a scramble supper at the Methodist church at 6:30 this evening. A good program is being arranged.

The Mothers Study club will hold a dinner party Wednesday at the Miami dining room, Sterling. Members meet at 6 o'clock at Mrs. Fred Padgett's.

of tired by now," Lucas said. "No," Dirksen answered. "I'm just getting my second wind. I'm going to work harder from now on."
In praising Lucas, the President also put in a good word for Senator Paul Douglas, who was elected in 1948 for six years.
Meanwhile, the Democratic party said today it's against government employment of Communists but that it is also against "smears."
A policy statement adopted by the national committee said: "We condemn efforts to gain partisan advantage of smears and innuendoes which hamper our government and blacken the character of innocent citizens."
In Washington, Rep. Mason (R-Ill.) said the Democratic celebration in Chicago was a "three-ringed political circus" to re-elect Lucas.

Navy Vet, 29, Slain in Rock Island Battle

Aledo, Ill., May 16—(AP)—A brief gun duel ended last night with the death of James B. Smith, 29, a Rock Island factory worker and navy veteran.
Smith fell in the doorway of his Aledo house, but by two of five pistol shots fired by Robert Cagle, a Mercer county deputy sheriff.

Cagle said he fired after Smith had loosed a shotgun blast at him. The deputy sheriff, Police Chief James Saylor and Officer William Albertson went to the Smith house after Smith's wife had telephoned from a neighbor's home that her husband had been terrorizing her. She said she fled from Smith, taking their four-year-old son, Richard, with her.

The officers said they called to Smith to come out of the house. Cagle, who was closest to the house, said he saw Smith take a drink. Then Smith appeared carrying a shotgun, and fired, aiming at Cagle.
The deputy's bullets hit Smith in the head and chest.
Aledo is a community of about 3,000 population, some 30 miles south of Rock Island.

Dependent Child Aid Drops Fifth Month in a Row

Springfield, Ill., May 16—(AP)—Because of tighter controls, the old age pension and aid to dependent children rolls are expected to drop again in May for the fifth straight month, the Illinois Public Aid commission said today.
The commission also said that blind assistance rolls, which have been dropping steadily, are expected to reach a new low this month.
Carl K. Schmidt, Jr., IPAC secretary, said the commission has improved its techniques for investigating aid recipients and has accelerated efforts to get relatives to care for persons now receiving aid.
Schmidt said new applicants are getting "extra careful" screening, with the result that proportionally fewer cases are being approved.
During April, he said, 74 percent of the aid to dependent children applications were rejected.

Veteran of Indian Wars Dies at 90

Decatur, Ill., May 16—(AP)—George W. Gilbrand, 90, an Illinois veteran of the Indian wars, died Saturday in a veterans hospital in Springfield, Mo.
Born in Sparta, Ill., he fought with the Fifth Cavalry division between 1877 and 1879. He spent most of his life in Decatur, where he was a contractor.
Gilbrand was under age when he enlisted, and was given a discharge "without character." He finally succeeded in obtaining an honorable discharge last year.

Plays Leap Frog With Automobile

San Manno, Calif. — (AP) — Lloyd Pariah, 31, was pulling weeds on a strip dividing two super highways. Motorist Victor Kingman, 58, averted to avoid a car ahead. His car somersaulted over Pariah's head coming to rest in the opposite lane.
Kingman and a passenger were seriously injured. Pariah's only comment: "Suppose I'd been standing up."

Israeli Physicians Strike for More Pay

Tel Aviv, Israel, May 16—(AP)—Three hundred physicians employed by the Israeli government called a 24-hour strike today for higher pay. The doctors left their posts in hospitals, clinics and immigration camps.
The doctors are seeking a boost in their present average monthly pay of $80 ($225) per month and government recognition of their General Physicians organization.

Guatemala Campaign Shooting Kills Three

Guatemala, Guatemala, May 16—(AP)—Three persons were killed last night in a shooting growing out of Guatemala's already-bitter presidential campaign. The elections will not be held until November or December.

Fathia's Marriage Not Recognized by Egyptian Council

Cairo, May 16—(AP)—Egypt's royal council refused today to recognize the California marriage of King Farouk's sister, Princess Fathia, to a Christian commoner, a palace spokesman announced.
The council ordered an administrator to take control of the properties of both Fathia and Queen Mother Nazli.

The queen mother had approved the marriage of 19-year-old Fathia last month in San Francisco to 31-year-old Riad Ghalil. King Farouk did not approve. The bridegroom is the queen mother's secretary.

The council also ordered Fathia's sister, Princess Faiba, to return to Egypt immediately from the United States, the spokesman, Muhammad Zulfoukar Bey, reported.
In a royal council session at which Prince Muhammad Ali, heir apparent to the Egyptian throne presided, the council announced that so far as Egypt is concerned, the California marriage is considered annulled.

The council is the royal family's court, which advises the king on matters involving members of the royal family who violate royal wishes.

Brahma Crossbreds Termed Gentle

Matheson, Colo. — (AP) — Talk about Brahma bulls and most people picture a wild eyed critter coming out of a rodeo chute bent for leather with a cowpoke hanging on for dear life. Those people haven't seen the gentle Brahma cattle which are predominantly Brahma being raised in eastern Colorado, Texas and elsewhere in the nation.
About one half Brahma, a quarter Shorthorn and a quarter Hereford, the Brahmasters are so domesticated that in some cases ranchers don't even need cowboys to round them up. They just sound a siren and the cattle come charging in.

PERSONALS

The Community Civics class of the Paw Paw high school with their teacher, John French, who is also superintendent of the school, visited the Dixon Evening Telegraph Monday afternoon during their tour of Dixon. significance in the coal mining industry.
Siderer led a group of Canton, Ill., coal miners who tried to return to their jobs during the strike. After the strike was over, Siderer was fined $50,000 by his United Mine Workers union local and given the privilege of paying at a rate of $25 a day. This is more than his daily pay.
The house group is to hear Siderer's story at tonight's session.
Lewis indicated in his letter that Siderer might be able to win reinstatement in the United Mine Workers.

Lewis said Siderer has failed to exercise "his right of appeal from the action of his local union" in assessing the large fine.

Illinois Racial Calls for End of Bias in Colleges

Springfield, Ill., May 16—(AP)—The Illinois Interracial commission has called upon all private and public colleges and universities in the state to eliminate discrimination.
In a communication sent yesterday to administrative officers of the schools, the commission said a majority of application blanks by 65 colleges last year contained requests for information "which have been ruled out as discriminatory" in other states.
"Twenty-nine of the 65 colleges asked for the race of the applicant; forty-five asked for religion; fifty asked questions concerning the language spoken in the home," the commission said.
"Our study convinces us," the commission added, "that many schools have merely copied the application forms of better known institutions and are not aware of the discriminatory implications of some of these questions."
"The integrity of the American way of life calls for determined action to eliminate those factors in our life which are out of harmony with our basic principles."

Carriers Plan To Resume All Runs Rapidly

needed for safety).
Members of the National railway: Mediation board, who worked through the night, left instructions not to be disturbed and could not be reached for comment.
The union also said the railroads agreed to discipline any fireman who goes back into the motor rooms "in violation of this agreement."
200,000 Idled
Effects—An estimated 200,000 persons in industries relying on uninterrupted rail service and in the rail industry itself were made idle. Unofficial estimates of cost to carriers and other industry run into millions of dollars.
Strike strategy—Four important roads serving the heavily populated industrial east, the manufacturing, and shipping centers of the south and the agricultural west were singled out for strike action. This put a crimp in the usually steady flow of commerce while not totally cutting off transportation and causing a national emergency. The Santa Fe and Pennsylvania are big diesel users, yet such roads as the Gulf, Mobile & Ohio and Monon, completely dieselized, were not struck.
Settlement effects—Freight embargoes have been removed and passenger service is approaching normal. Pennsylvania said its passenger service will be on a regular basis after midnight tonight. The New York Central and Southern expects to be back to full scale operation tomorrow. Santa Fe lifted its freight embargo hours before settlement was publicly announced.
Both the carriers and the striking union called the settlement terms satisfactory.

Card of Thanks

My sincere thanks to my relatives, friends and neighbors for the calls and flowers I received during my stay in the hospital and since returning home. They were greatly appreciated.
